Magazine might be missing from this gun if worker was missing from the job.

Multiply this empty chair by thousands and answer is tragic for men at front.

She was up late and needs rest. Today her work will suffer.

Work-day dropper, worst form of absenteeism.

We Can't Afford to Lose A Minute!

Victory depends on a continuous flow of supplies and munitions to the many fronts on which the United Nations are fighting. The output of factories in turn depends not only on adequate supplies of materials, but also on the concerted efforts of every man and woman employed in our war factories. Most vexing of all problems facing Canadian industry today is absenteeism, a tremendous obstacle in the path of all-out war production. There are two forms of absenteeism—both involving the human factor. The first is voluntary absence from work without good reason; sleeping late, shopping, trips, long week ends, pay day celebrations. This is absenteeism in its most appalling form. It shows utter disregard for the grave and vital responsibility which must be accepted by those upon whom the fighting forces depend. In some plants, it frequently reaches 25 per cent; in others, it may go as high as 40 per cent. Second form of absenteeism is caused by illness and industrial accidents, both resulting mainly from carelessness and faulty habits, such as lack of proper food and sleep. Our fighting men have sweated and bled to take us this far along the road to victory. Every Canadian war worker should realize that they won't be cheated in spite of their goal. The specially posed photographs on this page show some ways in which employees may unconsciously sabotage the country's war effort. The slightest slackening by any one may impede the efficiency of the whole machine.

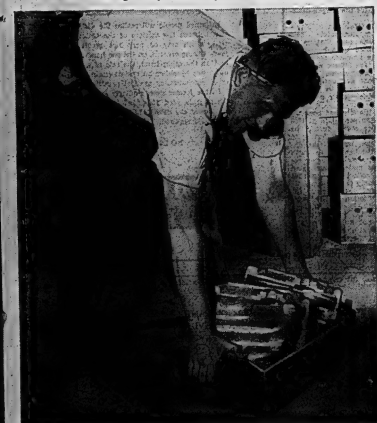

Absenteeism means less production and less money on pay day.

She's risking her eyes. Those goggles were made to be worn.

Here's a good stunt for night workers—blinkers for the eyes.

This worker should bend knees while lifting, to avoid injury.

She didn't like wearing regulation bandanna.

When 100 workers waste 5 minutes, one man's time is lost for day.

CHAPTER 7

There were two men about the boat who didn't look like the crew of the crew, two men in full dress and city clothes, who had on carefully at the boat house, and looked alongside.

Christabel drew back from the men when they were standing, and she was very close to them.

London, Dec. 7.—(CP)—A strong force of R.A.F. bombers, striking over Britain and United States shores carried out the heaviest daylight assault against the continent, continued, according to the official news. That out of the conflict with Italy ended Sunday night upon the heels of the heaviest raid since the outbreak of the war.

At a cost of nine planes, the R.A.F. participated—besides the R.C.A.F.—in the heaviest raid which British identified as Karlsruhe, and Friedrichs, together with German cities and were destroyed. The German bombers were shot down in the east coast of England, and the German bombers were shot down in the east coast of England, and the German bombers were shot down in the east coast of England.

EMMANUEL CHURCH. Mr. R. E. Wemp, Sp
 8.30 p.m. WEDNESDAY—"THE TIME IS FULFILLED."
 8.00 p.m. THURSDAY—"THE DAWN OF A NEW AGE."

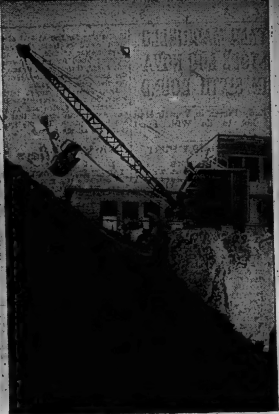

"I am pleased to be able to announce that agreement has now been reached by the Governments of the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia and New Zealand on a Co-operative Air Training Plan. The agreement was signed last night very shortly after midnight in my office on Parliament Hill."

RIGHT HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING, M.P.
PRIME MINISTER OF CANADA
SUNDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1939

December 16, 1939, Britain, Australia, New Zealand and Canada signed the agreement which launched the Empire's answer to the Luftwaffe's threat. Now, entering its fourth year the vast British Commonwealth Air Training Plan is pouring out the trained men who are gaining mastery of air.

Canada, through the Royal Canadian Air Force, is administrator of the vast plan. Air Minister Fowler and Air Marshal Broadhurst are the directing geniuses.

Construction work started the day after signing of the agreement. The Plan has not known a full day's holiday since. More than 140 aerodromes were built.

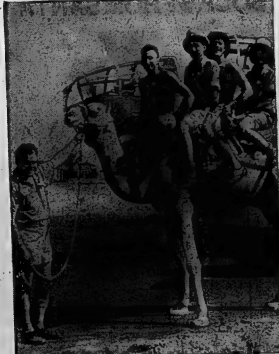

First a trickle, then a stream, now a great torrent of fighting airmen is pouring overseas from the plan. Early graduates are pictured above headed for battle.

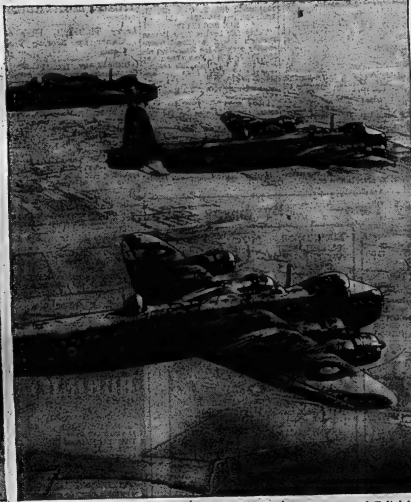

They serve at home as well as overseas. Canada's Kittyhawks are constantly ready for instant action at any coast, too, must be well protected. They also fly regular "sweep" hunting U-boats, protecting shipping.

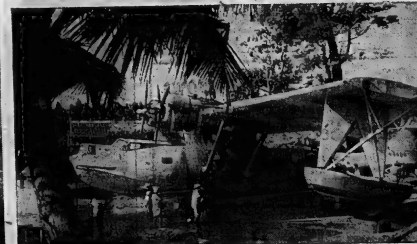

In Alaska R.C.A.F. graduates of the R.C.A.T.P. fly alongside U.S. forces. Typical pilot is Flight Sgt. "Mick" Susiak, Powell River, B.C., with Kittyhawk.

Thousands of the Plan's products helped in routing Rommel in the Western Desert. R.C.A.F. men on camel are the crew of the B-29 bomber in the background.

Men trained in Canada, most of them Canadians, form the crews of Britain's biggest bombers like the Stirlings above. The terrific lambasting of Nazi industrial centres tells the best story of the Air Training Plan's success.

Back from a raid over Germany, these lads (ABOVE) schooled for their task in Canada, tell the intelligence officer of the devastation they wrought. In Ceylon, too, they serve. (BELOW) An R.C.A.F. Catalina squadron fights there.

Beauty Gifts for Feminine Flattery Conserve Your Xmas Cosmetics

Pretty! Feminine! Lovely! These are the words of today's fashion vocabulary. This Christmas, there will be an all-time high reached in the number of good grooming gifts which women will receive. And with every spare penny going into War Savings Stamps, these prettifiers take on new value. Just as budgets must be stretched, so, too, must women find ways and means of conserving precious perfume, soap and shapely stockings.

Conservation Beauty Tips

According to Mrs. Enid Edison, designer of those charming early American toiletries packages from Shulton, there are just nine points remnants; 1. Keep all toiletries packed from the edge of shelves to avoid being knocked over. 2. Avoid evaporation of perfume and toilet water by placing it out of the light and tight stopper. 3. Use an atomizer and atom spray only at the last minute. 4. Don't let soap swim in the water. Keep it in a dry soap dish. 5. Use a silver or metal for finger-rubbing. Only the minimum amount of medicine. 6. Amount of bath salt. 7. Use oil is necessary to soften hair. 8. Use a puff for dusting powder and pat excess in box before applying. 9. Press face powder into skin, then allow to "set" before smoothing to prevent constant powdering. 10. Always let lipstick "set" on lips before blotting. 11. Use

Japanese Active

In Hupeh Province

Chungking, Dec. 17. — (AP) — The Japanese have begun an attack from Shao, Middle Yangtze port in Hupeh province, driving south in three columns, the Chinese High Command reported tonight. Its communique said heavy fighting is in progress.

It also said a second Japanese attempt to land troops on the Lushow Peninsula, in southern Kwangtung province just opposite the Japanese-held island of Hainan, had been beaten off. A warship launched 13 fully loaded invasion barges and tried to cover the landing, with its guns, but stout Chinese resistance repelled the attempt the High Command said.

RARE BLUE GOOSE

SHOT AT PT. PETRE

Pictou, Dec. 16.—What is believed to be a blue goose, a very rare visitor to this part of Canada, was slain at Point Petre yesterday by a French-Canadian hunter, Mr. J. G. Tremblay. It was a specimen of the Canada goose. The bill and feet were flesh pink in color while there was a black band around the mouth. The head and about four inches of the neck were white, the forehead and legs tinged with orange, the breast a dark pigeon blue while the back was a lighter blue. The tail was also light blue in color. The bird was good eating, Mr. Tremblay said.

At the same time, Mr. Tremblay shot an Arctic owl, which was also a very rare specimen being one of the largest specimens of the kind he has shot here.

Soldiers Want Practical Gifts

There are many factors to consider in the purchase of gifts for men in service. The most important, perhaps, is the practicality of the gift. For instance, there is a difference in the type of service that is acceptable to military men and to civilians. Thus, the type of gift that is acceptable to military men is different from that which is acceptable to civilians. For instance, a soldier's gift should be practical, useful, and of good quality. It should be something that the soldier can use in his service. For instance, a soldier's gift should be practical, useful, and of good quality. New Delhi, Dec. 18 (CP)—British troops have crossed the Indian border and advanced some 40 miles into Japanese-occupied Burma to the Maungdaw-Burkham area, British sources in the Indian army announced today. The advance, started after a tactical aerial bombardment of Japanese positions between the Indian border and Ayakab, was made with great speed, Japanese planes withdrew before the approaching British troops, it was said.

Both British and United States planes have been beating Japanese positions between Maungdaw and Ayakab for a week. While there was no indication that the action of a general Allied offensive had been decided, it was reported that the first time since the war the word "Burma" had been used in the British press.

As the link between housewives saving fats and bones and the war industries which require this salvage material. Housewives are encouraged to take rendered fats to the retailers in wide-mouth tin containers.

"Apart from fats, our main hope is for Christmas salvage of the rubber and scrap-metal type," one official said.

"These are the essentials of the war campaign and we have hopes of seeing returns rise after the holiday season."

As Christmas Nears

The Christmas festival is not far away. It is a matter of days to the time when the people of many nations of the earth will come under the holy spirit of Christmas and all the associations which have gathered about that great event.

No other time of the year, no other festival receives so much attention and preparation as it is the festival of the life in Christ. It is therefore the greatest festival in Christian civilization and it embraces the life of the child.

The young children have not long to wait for the coming of Santa Claus, with his bagful of treasures for the good little boys and girls.

Another New Experience

The war is teaching people to do without some things and will for the duration at least establish new habits. One of the changes is in the form of no-handle cups which are to be manufactured under the plan of simplification of the war.

The manufacture of these cups will seem strange but people will enjoy the experience of drinking from handleless cups and new cups may create a new form of table entertainment.

People are learning some facts about the amount of labor and details of work going into the manufacture of the common things they enjoy. The number of operations in many war industries is being reduced to a minimum in the manufacture of implements of war.

After all the people do not suffer any ill-effects. They will become more up to hand in handling cups or mugs, an additional benefit of this safe guess that few people knew until this week that the body of the cup is made in one operation and the handle has been made separately and is the exclusive work of the human hand.

An immense saving in cost is being effected. In fact they go the way of broken things four to five times as fast as other kinds of objects.

It will be impossible to break the handle of the new type of cup.

Whether the new cup starts a fashion for a time after the war or not, it serves a good purpose in war days in simplification. It will be easier to wash even if an occasional one slips out of the grasp.

These cups are a simple, probable because of this time in the experience of Canadians.

Fraternity of Music

In the midst of war many national origins of music are brought together. United Nations are thinking in terms of universal democracy and everything that pertains to the United Nations is exerting an influence upon the other nations.

Great fraternalism is being fostered by their security and the betterment of mankind. Chords ring not only English, French and some of the larger carols of other nations but the whole field of carols of these United Nations is open to us.

The other night in the large Canadianity the approach of Christmas was heralded by the singing of carols and folk music of England, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Canada, Wales, Russia and other lands. So warm is the fraternity of the United Nations.

At this time it is appropriate to mention that Sir Ernest MacMillan said the other night that England is fast becoming a great musical nation, as she was in the earlier days of the Elizabethan era. English carols are a treasured source of the music of a rapacious quality. Today the British people feel a great hunger for great and fine music to a greater degree than in many centuries, he said.

Sir Ernest hopes that the needs and inspiration of music will be remembered in the reconstruction of the new world to follow the war. This hope has a profound place in the musical literature of the United Nations and Christmas brings this fact very clearly before us for Christmas music's appeal is universal.

OURSELVES AND THEIRS

BY EDWARD J. CONNOR

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Christmas is a happy season—Why is this so? Why the greetings and cheer? Why are hearts so gay?

Oh! because our hearts are stirring To our brother's need.

From to wonderful self-forgetting We have joy indeed; And because our thoughts self-centred Have now flown afar, Guided to a lovely manger By the Christmas Star.

—Helen B. Anderson, Consecos, Ont.

THE TEN WAR COMMANDMENTS

1. Thou shalt not pretend to know more than thy neighbor upon the coming or going of ships, munitions, or men.

2. Thou shalt not be puffed to take thy family or thy wife's family to the movies on Wednesdays; or to the market on Saturdays; or to the bar-gain sales on Mondays.

3. Thou shalt not bring thy family on to the transit at hours when the workers return from their labours, for thy family cluttereth up the works and tethers all the season.

4. Thou shalt not harass thy son because he hath not a calling; neither shalt thou make him to feel that, as a private, it is to lower the good name of the family.

5. Thou shalt not hoard as the squirrels hoard for the life of a squirrel is but short, and thou wouldst desire to live long.

6. Thou shalt not get ants in thy pants to put on a uniform only because thou art vain and hath not courage to work hard in the place where thou art most needed.

7. Thou shalt not strike; neither shalt thou walk out; neither shalt thou lock out or sit down on the job for thou dost deprive that day shall be long in the land that thy fathers have given thee.

8. Thou shalt not in thy confidence count the miles to London, or to Moscow, or to Russia, unto thy home town and fortress, for lo! it might come about that this nation would be a wall of steel and bullet.

9. Thou shalt not criticize the other fellow for the things he has done, for thou shalt not know thyself.

10. Thou shalt not love faith, for thou shalt do nothing beyond recovery if thy faith be but sound.

—Lagatory.

HUMOUR IN BRITISH GREETING CARDS

Humour is the friendly British humour as immortalized in Punch, strikes the dominant note in the Christmas cards, which embattled Britons exchanged on the festive Christmas Eve.

Humour is a traditional asset in our Empire democracy. Balfour's "Old Blimey" did his bit to give generation by his humorous outlook amidst his grim surroundings in war-torn France.

Military subjects predominate in current British Christmas cards, often done a night or two before the war.

The use of some familiar war phrase, illustrating a situation ridiculed foreign to the originator.

One card shows a party of "Tommy's" dispersing on skates, only to be caught in a "Dreadful Overhead." A featureless rovers surveys his flock. Says a hen, "He's been here a long time, I'm afraid."

Soldiers are depicted consuming beer and "Demolition Squad," is the descriptive explanation.

A soldier arrives home on a train, surrounded by wife, son and dog. "Encirclement," explains the caption.

Getting a laugh out of the clothing ration is a great dress in the Christmas card. It shows a girl dressed in a "Dress."

"I'm a lazy boy and I never did anything in my life I wasn't forced to do,"—Irving Berlin.

"No matter how good it takes, no matter what it costs, win we must, and win we will."—General C. I. Scott.

"The war has gone ahead of us; let us catch up with it."—Lin Yutang.

Chief Probert warned motorists that it is in violation of city parking by-laws to park motor vehicles anglewise along the main streets in the downtown area. Complaints that motorcycles are being angle parked on East Bridge St. led to the warning. "Motorists report that vehicles are being double-parked and placed at angle parking in some, where only parallel parking is permitted. Subsequent violations will result in police court charges, the public thoroughfares must be kept open, and more especially where the streets are icy," added Chief Probert in his final warning at noon.

The Christmas Festival

The greatest of festivals of the Christian year is at hand, Christmas, and in a few hours the people will be caught up in the full contagion of the spirit of Christmas Day. Though for the calendar and for business reasons, each day begins after midnight, really it begins some where about or after dawn. But Christmas is a day that starts directly when Christmas Eve ends, just after the clock strikes the hour of midnight. In many churches this time is one of great spiritual significance in the glory of the coming of the natal day of One who has transformed himself into human society. Before midnight night little children have been tucked away in bed and fast asleep, the hours of the pleasantest thoughts and dreams that ever will come into their gentle little heads—thoughts of a good, kind, and loving world of little children in his reindeer sled and brings good things to one and all. What a glorious fantasy for the mind of a child. With loads of good thoughts and generally does it not teach?

Then in a few hours after this wonderful night of dream and mystery comes the waking time, then dawn and thereafter the events of the Christmas day in the year for children and adults.

On this day, adults are content to be led by the children. On this day the youngest the adult the most beautiful and the most beautiful of the ideal society and civilization?

The religious significance of the day is in this form of celebration. The spirit of Christmas is catching. Once in the year at least man thinks and thinks of sweep of generous spirit and thinking of Once one is thoroughly imbued with it it cannot be laid aside. It is something that lives from childhood to age, from century to century. It would civilization by its lessons of practical goodwill and humanity. Such a festival binds the human heart by ties that cannot be broken and fires the heart. It is more than an event. It is an expression of something living and divine.

Greet Canadians in Forces

Canadians at home, and Canadians in the armed forces abroad will join in spirit each other with the traditional greeting, "Merry Christmas." The people at home have the members of the armed forces in their minds and hearts. They have remembered them with constant letters and gifts sent from home in a volume of Christmas letters. These members of the forces are the ones who carry on with home front duties.

Some of the members of the forces have been in Britain since December 1939 and in a few hours will be home. Some are spending their fourth Christmas there, and their third, some their second and a large number their first, among those who arrived this week.

Canadian boys and men and the women of the army services have come to know the character of the British people. These people of great heart, resolute will and amazing endurance. They have made friendships which will outlast time and which will leave abiding impressions. They will be carried to Canada while in their spirit. Hitler would destroy it he could. Christmas, faith, and hope as well as the finest developed in the situations of domestic life is the foe of light and life and this dragon must be slain. This Canadians are vowed to do that the things which we love and cherish, and the institutions which have marked the upward climb of democratic civilization may be preserved.

These members of the armed forces know the spirit of Christmas and Yuletide.

"We may try, even with some success, to educate the Germans and the Japanese to become decent members of the family of nations, but we must use great care in applying to them our democratic standards of idealism, to which, in the light of their own history and deeds, they are completely allergic," London said.

"We shall have to apply practical realism. They will have to be made to understand that it pays better to be decent, and that both their present and any possible future outrages will be dealt with in a manner to prevent recurrence."

London (CP) — Hard by Canada House, off Trafalgar Square, Canadian women in the service engaged in war work in Britain have their own central gathering place called Canada Corner.
A formal opening was on Dec. 18 but even before that more than 100 young Canadian girls, mostly in uniform, were making use of club's facilities at 5 Whitehall St.
There is a comfortable sitting room, Canadian magazines and papers, a rest room and a snack bar.

The idea of the club came among the girls themselves, as they engaged in war work of a kind. They stayed in London throughout the bombing and learned just how much it means to be in touch with friends from home. So, after the idea was born, a year ago, a house, bombed in process of renovation was required, furniture was borrowed, an austere snack bar was set up.

The first organization meeting was held, nearly 12 months ago.

Captor of Von Thomas Killed in Action The Following Day

London, Dec. 24.—(AP) — Capt. Grant Singer, who learned about reconnaissance as master of the fox hounds in West England, was credited posthumously today with the capture of the German general Ritter von Thoma, soon after British Eighth Army's decisive breakthrough from El Alamein into the Libyan Desert.

The war broke out, as usual, at the start of the Eighth Army's advance he had been sent out along with the British tanks in a little scout car looking for the enemy.

His job was to pick out tank positions and radio back their positions to the main force.

There came the day when Bligh sighted two enemy tanks in front of him but with no British tank nearby to engage them. A scout from one tank went through the woods before he located a British tank commanded by Lieut. S. Ferguson.

"When Singer's little car came up to us, he jumped on the back of my tank and said he had a couple of targets for us", Ferguson said. "He pointed out the tanks at a distance ahead. Our second tank went home and the crew jumped from one burning tank into another."

"After he had been captured, general presented Singer his glasses. Singer took his address and promised to return them after war."

The general then was taken to Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's Eighth Army command post, where he dined together and re-fought the opening phases of the desert campaign at an after-dinner tactical conference, sketching their strategic plans on the oilcloth table cover.

Halifax, Dec. 24 — (CP)—Christmas card designs once were thought to be as unchangeable as time and the tides, but that was before the Royal Canadian Navy started printing their own.

Toronto, Dec. 24—Motor vehicle in Ontario will be required to carry a 1942 marker in front and a 1940 marker behind between Feb. 28 and April 1 to satisfy both Highway Minister T. B. McQuesten and O. Controller George Cottrell.

In the first place, the Ontario Government has ruled that the 1940 state-plate markers and other vehicle and motor operator's permits must be purchased by the February deadline, and the second Mr. Cottrill believes, gas and gasoline coupon books, bearing the numbers of the operators' permits, will not be issued until April 1.

Faced with this minor problem, the Department of Highways has hit upon the happy solution of having the two-plate system. The front marker will coincide with the marker number on the 1942 coupon books and the new 1943 plate behind will serve as the Identification tag for law enforcement.

CHANGING PICTURE IN 1942 POLITICS HAS MANY EFFECTS

New Faces in Dominion
Cabinet, New Senators and New Party Leaders
Shown in Review of Year's Developments

(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)
Ottawa, Dec. 31 (CP)—Deaths, resignations and transfers have brought changes each year in the cabinet with which Prime Minister

[illegible]

Mr. Thompson did not resign his leadership of the provincial Liberal party and the situation his resignation as premier created is to be decided at a convention planned for early spring.

New appointments

New federal cabinet appointments during the past 13 months were 11 vacancies created by the death of Justice Minister Lapointe, transfer of Labor Minister Macdonald to the department of secretary state, appointment of War Services Minister Thomson to presidency of the exchequer court, resignation of Hon. P. J. A. Cardin from the post office, transfer of Minister of Transport and death of Senator Davidson.

Fisheries Minister Michael was transferred to the transport portfolio when changes were made in bringing the cabinet to full strength.

Two members of the House Commons died in 1945—James Woodhouse, leader and founder of the Temperance and Non-Resistance Federation, member for Winnipeg North Centre, and Dr. H. R. Piermin, Liberal member for Humboldt since 1928. In addition War Service Minister Thomson resigned in 1945, having been elected to the House of the exchequer court and Thomson, Liberal member for Montreal Outremont and deputy speaker of the House, resigned to take a Senate seat.

Seven by-elections in 1943 brought one loss to the government but there was a riding in which no government-endorsed candidate was running. Charles E. Wagner, Conservative, was elected in 1943. Secretary Craggman who left it to take a bench appointment, went an independent candidate in a by-election Nov. 30.

In two other by-elections in the district, William North, Conservative, was winning. North, Ontario Minister LaFleche won in Ontario.

Earlier in the year Justice Minister Laurier was elected in Quebec south, the seat held by his predecessor in office; Labor Minister Mitchell won Welland, a former Liberal riding; and a Liberal candidate, Dr. G. Paquet, retained the seat at Montreal.

The government did not oppose R. H. Arthur Meighan, National Conservative leader who contested North where the sitting Conservative member, C. A. C. Cockburn, resigned to make a run for his leader, but Mr. Meighan was defeated by Premier Hepburn, supported by J. W. Noseworthy.

supplies and food become scarcer. But the people of Britain have entered their fourth wartime winter before.

For the season, the harvest is more encouraging than at any time since the start of the war, and the potato crop is the best since 1914. But it will take a week or two to get the harvest a quick glance up from their war jobs to conjecture about the time remaining before supplies are plentiful.

Occupation of North Africa has the stimulus everyone heeded to face in high spirit another "Winter of Discontent" in the Mediterranean. The novelty of such inconveniences as blackout and ever-growing rationing has worn out its effect. People are beginning to become complacent they seem to be telling a bit on survey.

The Ministry of Information says the Ministry of War has been told that the war weariness when it landed to its modest output of time are presenting ...the farmer in the role of teacher of good neighborliness. The German government's appeal to East Germany's politicians at last Winter through the prompt reply to that through was if possible to strain at least in some way a full year after Germany's.

MOBILIZATION COMES

(AP) — The British — be caught by sur- the war ends and problem of demobil- hopes to have a plan ready says parliamentary Under- ser.

A black and white illustration of a sleigh ride in a snowy landscape. A horse-drawn sleigh carries two people, and a horse is harnessed to it. The background shows a dark, forested hill under a cloudy sky.

It's An Old-Fashioned Winter And An Old-Fashioned Christmas

RICH succulence of roast turkey and mince pie... sleigh rides in the crisp air... fruit cake and egg nog for neighbors dropping in... an open fire to steal the chill from hours on the skating pond... music in the light of the Christmas tree... these are traditions of a real Christmas — old as Great-Grandmother, new as priorities.

IT'S GOING to be an old-fashioned Christmas this year, a Christmas that will take on deeper meaning than ever in the shadow of more than three years of War. It will be a friendlier, more neighborly Christmas, because shared troubles and labors have brought us all closer. We'll be doing without some of the luxuries we once thought necessary, and find greater happiness in the luxury of giving and doing for others. It will be a colder Christmas because we've learned the wartime lesson of cutting down on precious fuels—but we'll be warm with old-fashioned mittens and mufflers and warm with Christmas spirit as deep as the heart! It will be a colorful Christmas because we're learning how heart-lifting are bright colors in simple things like apples and firelight and gay ribbons! It will be a brave Christmas, too. Loved ones missing from their usual places in the family circle will only make us stronger in our determination to preserve the Christmas spirit of brotherhood and peace for which they are fighting. . . . Our thoughts will join theirs as we pledge, on this wartime Christmas, renewed efforts to speed the day of Victory when they will come home to spend all future Christmases with us in the land of the free.

Desert troops were reported to be in a position to have advanced to within 40 miles of Oudjda, strategic Tunisia port which has approximately 500,000 tons of supplies. The division of the advance was not stated, but delayed dispatches reported that the American force was operating on the southern Tuni-dian side of a narrow strip of land, 40 miles long, 10 miles wide, and 10 miles deep, which was the only link between the coast and inland, in which the British were operating.
